Season 2, Episode 2:

"Disadvantaged by Digitization": Technology, Big data, and Food Systems

Featuring Harrison Runtz in conversation with Kelly Bronson, Irena Knezevic, and Carly Livingstone

Discussion Questions

1. How are digital technologies changing food and farming?

2. How are privacy concerns around food and farming data similar to, or different from, more general digital privacy worries (e.g., social media, geo-tracking, etc.)?

3. Why is concentrated power in digital food and farming an issue of social justice?

4. What are some approaches that can ensure digital technologies equitably serve farmers and others who work in food?